THE GREYHOUND

1959

Published by
The I. C. NORCOM HIGH SCHOOL and
sponsored by the Senior Classes

FOREWARD

The 1959 staff of the Greyhound is attempting to present in this publication an account of the daily events as well as progress of the senior and lower classes here at Norcom.

It was not an easy task but one which we all enjoyed. We hope that our efforts will in later years help you to remember the many pleasant memories we all shared here.

We wish to thank the faculty, student body and many others who have helped us to make this yearbook a success.

GRADUATION DAY

MR. ALF J. MAPP

SUPERINTENDENT

The I. C. Norcom faculty and students are to be congratulated upon their initiative, enterprise and resourcefulness in once again publishing a yearbook.

The school paper informs the student body, faculty, and friends of current achievements, coming events; it gossips, philosophizes, crusades, is read avidly at the time, quickly cast aside and generally forgotten.

The school literary magazine gives the creative writer a medium of expression, is read critically by contributors and would be contributors, agonized over by editors and advisers and soon finds refuge and rest on an inconspicuous library shelf.

Not so with the yearbook. Its coming is eagerly anticipated months in advance of publication. The editorial staff spends countless hours in selecting a theme and many more trying hours in deciding how the theme can best be interpreted. The business staff agonizes over securing sufficient funds to finance the grandiose ideas of the editorial staff, for each edition must be different from any of its predecessors. It must portray the personality of the senior class.

But once the yearbook becomes a reality, good or bad, it becomes the senior's most prized possession. Autographs are cherished and a laudatory inscription by a favorite teacher or campus hero has value beyond compare.

Once properly autographed, the yearbook is given the place of honor among one's most prized possessions, to be thumbed through and dreamed over in all the years to come. When young men and women leave home to establish one of their own, things of greater material value may be left behind, but the yearbook is carefully wrapped and transported to another place of honor to be studied and enjoyed by another generation.

The 1958 - 59 edition of THE GREYHOUND, too, will be accorded a place of honor in many homes.

Mr. Alf J. Mapp, Superintendent

PRINCIPAL'S MESSAGE

"Tis education forms the common mind; just as the twig is bent the tree is inclined." Pope

Progress is a slow process, but it can be depended upon when it evolves from patience, experimentation, hardwork, understanding, mutual cooperation, spiritual insight, and moral stamina on the part of individuals and of groups.

In critical days, such as these, - frustrations, conflicts, confusions doubts, and fears often confound youth and set them off their course. Since they are the hope of the future, every person, group or agency working with them, must be sure that they are undergirded with devotion to God and Man, the best possible education, a positive approach to life's problems, and an unquenching faith in the present and the future.

H. W. Beacher has wisely stated that "we should so live and labor in our time that what came to us as seed may go to the next generation as blossom, and what came to us as blossom may go to them as fruit. This is what we mean by progress."

I. C. Norcom High School has attempted to reflect the interest of school officials, principal, and teachers in the advancement of education for the Negro populace in Portsmouth. There has been constant effort to articulate problems in teaching, curriculum, guidance, and administrative practice as they relate to educational levels below and above the high school, for this is basis to curriculum improvement.

Our role has been to specify the pupil, his environment, his capacities and his ambitions, for we believe that:

1. learning should be adjusted on a basis of individual differences
2. learning should be motivational
3. learning should be meaningful
4. learning should be experiential
5. learning should lead to improved behavior and attitudes.

The American secondary school occupies a strategic position in the country's educational design. The Negro secondary schools stand in the shadow of a transition which is bewildering, yet extremely challenging. It indicates a need for redefinition of goals in terms of the demands of the times and of the future.

What are these demands? They are as follows:

1. to achieve academic thoroughness
2. to acquire physical and moral soundness
3. to accomplish cultural advancement
4. to attain spiritual growth and refinement
5. to accept the obligation of civic responsibility.

These can be accomplished through competent leadership, adequate school facilities and materials of instruction. Working in new and challenging ways in the improvement and appraisal of teaching, developing wholesome parent-community relationships, endeavoring to improve the curriculum in ways which promise to enhance the quality of learning for the gifted, average or slow pupils, and continuing guidance services in the areas of testing and personnel work help pupils more adequately adjust to school experiences and experiences beyond the school.

To the Sponsors and the Graduating Classes of 1959, who are responsible for this yearbook, we express our deep appreciation.

This book represents an activity which will depict in a pictorial way the teachers, students, and various groups engaged in the serious business of providing for, belonging to, and participating in activities which assure wholesome development for successful living in these perilous times.

To our graduates we extend a fond but sad farewell!

Take with you the wise words from an old English Prayer:

"Give us, Lord, a bit o' sun,
A bit o' work and a bit o' fun;
Give us in all the struggle and sputter
Our daily bread and a bit o' butter
Give us health, our keep to make,
An' a bit to spare for others' sake
Give us, too, a bit of song
And a tale, and a book to help us along
Give us, Lord, a chance to be
Our goodly best, brave, wise and free,
Our goodly best for ourself, and others,
Till all men learn to live as brothers."

ASSISTANT PRINCIPAL'S GREETING

We extend congratulations to the pupils and staff for a banner year in the life of Norcom. Our athletic teams have brought glory to our school, but other cultural activities of our school have not been eclipsed by athletics. All other organizations have won the highest award or loomed near the top. We are rapidly coming to the realization of our dream of a well balanced program second to none.

This year we have seen a rise in academic achievement as evidenced by a larger number of our students placing higher on state and national testing instruments in our accelerated testing program. For all this we are deeply grateful.

Congratulations to the seniors and sponsors for your untiring efforts in producing this fine edition of The Greyhound. Upon the pages you have recorded your activities and rich experiences that will afford all of us much joy as we reflect upon them in the future.

ALMA MATER SONG

For you, dear Norcom, we declare

A love that's ever true,

Allegiance, Alma Mater dear

We justly swear to you.

Deep in our hearts you hold a place

No other school can hold.

Forever and a day we're yours,

Yes, yours a thousand-fold.

Instructions you have given us;

From us they'll ne'er depart.

Intelligent you'll make us all,

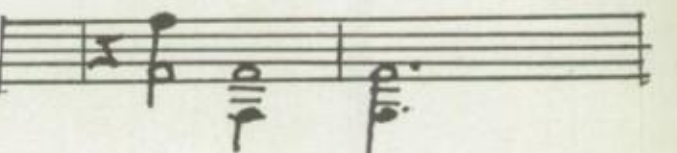

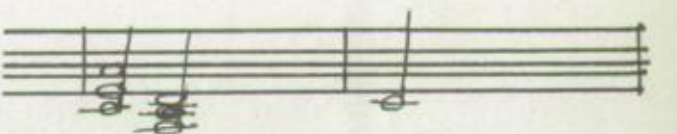

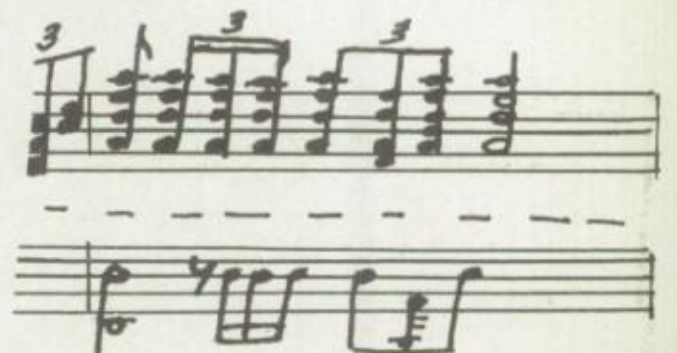

To love you teach the heart.

To set our ideals high, you say,

Will make us a success.

Our training all we owe to you,

The school that we love best.

Theme: "We Accept the Challenge"

NOW WE PART

For you, dear Norcom, we have done our best;
We've mastered the storms and stood the test.
For four long years we have labored here,
Now we must part with a sigh and a tear.

Each year as a class we were happy and gay,
But sadness always comes with graduation day.
We dread this hour we've not experienced before
Because the class that is now will be a class no more.

Oh, principals and teachers, we love you so.
Down through the years you were never our foe.
Every moment and second, each one was a guide
When there were problems, you stood by our side.

Our days with you here will forever be gone;
But, dear Norcom, many precious memories will linger on.
You name, O Norcom, we'll ne'er let fall,
For the school we love best, is dear to us all.

CULTURE PROGRAMS

"The man of culture is the true apostle of equality"

--Matthew Arnold

MUSIC

Presented by
THE GUIDANCE DEPARTMENT

In September, the Guidance Department launched an organized program designed to expose all of our youth to the finer aspects of high cultural environs. A Cultural Committee, working with many cooperating departments and student groups, tried constantly to bring artists to our school and programs to the classroom. Each effort was designed to meet the cultural needs of the students. These Fine Arts Programs mark the culmination of this year's activities.

Finished at last...

We the staff of the 1959 Greyhound are very happy and proud of the fact that we have completed the story of our school life in pictures. Of course, the going was not always easy. In fact, sometimes it looked as if we'd never finish. We enjoyed every minute of it and hope that you enjoy reading it as much as we enjoyed preparing it.
